

Leopardella

Once upon a time there lived a leopard called Leopardella. She lived with her 2 ugly, wicked and spiteful step sisters. They lived in a big, dark and boring mansion. Leopardella was not like the other leopards because she was so funky. One day the 2 step sisters got an invitation to Prince Leopards' birthday party. Leopardella wanted to go but her step sisters said she couldn't she was too funky. Once her 2 step sisters went she went to go by a dry tree. After a few minutes Leopardella saw a glow that faintly appeared. It was her fairy leather mother. Then Leopardella was so shocked. She couldn't believe her eyes. The Fairy leather mother said "You can go to the party." Did you know that the Fairy leather mother put a spell on her so she wasn't too funky.
